DESPITE HIGH FINANCE
LADIES HEAR ABOUT RUSSIA
J. J. CORBETT, OBJECT
LESSON.
BROWN ON AVIATION.

In spite of objection from highest financial authority, including Secretary Mellon, the house has approved over-whelmingly, 363 to 39, the bill to let veterans borrow one half the value of their war certificates. If they all borrow one-half, Uncle Sam will have to pay out more than $1,500,000,000, and high finance says that will be ruinous.

As a rule, "big money," which means ability, should receive respectful attention, as does the captain of a ship. But high finance is sometimes mistaken. Big bankers and the federal reserve system could ruin the country, because it kept a few men from controlling all the money. They were wrong. Without the federal reserve this country would have had a black panic, long ago. They may be wrong in their idea that handing a billion dollars to those that need it, and earned it, will ruin us now.

We spent, gave away and wasted billions by the dozens in the war, and prosperity did not die. Perhaps some spending at home now will help instead of hurting. Knowledge is piled up in libraries, the problem is to distribute it. Water is accumulated in lakes and rivers, and distribution is the problem. Money is piled up in financial institutions, a glut of money, the owners cannot lend it. Perhaps distribution there will help.

American lady patriots listening in Los Angeles for three hours are assured that Russia threatens our institutions, and this land is practically the last refuge of good government, as opposed to Red Russian ideas. Dr. Patmont of California wrote to Russia, "I am a secret police agent, just wherever I please and I saw things behind the scenes that Americans less intelligent never see." He saw young girls standing in bread lines "with babies born illegitimately under this Soviet system." He saw "wild children, offspring of free love, sanctioned by this Soviet system, roaming around, until they were killed as pests by villagers and their bodies burned."

According to Dr. Patmont, killing folks and burning them, seems to be an important feature of Russian life. If Red Russia upsets our government, takes all the money away from Mellon, Rockefeller, Baker and Ford, and gives it free divorce to everybody, "with wild children, roaming around," in consequence, it will not be the fault of Dr. Patmont. He has warned this government.

Meanwhile, those Russians, enemies of capitalism, do their own capitalist business on their own account. An American firm, the Weithington Schindler Co., has contracted to buy $50,000,000 worth of furs from Russia, $10,000,000 worth every year, for five years.

And this government approves the transaction. Also Russia's government spends more than ours and has a surplus instead of a deficit, and every man in Russia has a job, whether he wants it or not. No idle class allowed. Such a country should be able to feed its wild children.

Eight Counties Seeking Funds For Road Work

COMMISSIONERS TO DRAFT OHIO ASSEMBLY BILL

Meet Tonight With Legislative Committee In Columbus

PRESENT LEVY TO EXPIRE THIS YEAR

Future Construction Uncertain Unless Help Is Obtained

LISBON, Feb. 18.—Commissioners, board clerks and surveyors of eight counties in northeastern Ohio, will go before a legislative committee at Columbus tonight for the purpose of working out a plan whereby the current legislature can put through a measure that will aid counties and townships in new road construction during 1932 and future years. The road situation, financially, is declared to be critical.

One Mill Levy Will Expire
The one mill levy for road purposes, which is now available, will expire at the close of the current year, and because of this fact it is contended that unless the present session puts through a new bill, county and township road construction after this year will be practically eliminated.

One plan that has been suggested, but which does not meet with favor because of the low return that would follow, is to increase the automobile license plate fee 50 percent, and then eliminate such motor vehicles from the tax duplicate.

The two-mill special road levy voted in Columbiana county in 1919 has been eliminated, and the present one-mill levy under the state law gives the county $120,000 annually. This money, however, is not available after Dec. 31, next.

$14,000 For Roadwork
To add 50 percent to the cost of license plates would give Columbiana

STUDENTS HEAR NOTED AVIATOR

Captain Dennis Rooke Urges Development Of Air-Mindedness

A plea for development of air-mindedness among the youth of America was issued by Captain Dennis Rooke, world famous aviator, in an address at an assembly of the student body of Salem High school here Friday afternoon. Capt. Rooke, noted for his solo flights from England to India, a distance of 7,000 miles, discussed adventures he had experienced as a pilot in various foreign countries and discussed aviation from an educational standpoint. He explained the need of further advancement in the aviation and urged school students to take an interest in it. Air-mindedness, Capt. Rooke stated, was the greatest essential to a successful pilot, declaring that without the instinct that comes to all natural aviators, navigation of a plane with any success whatever is almost impossible. He explained that development of the pilot's instinct must come through education.

Capt. Rooke spoke to students in one of a series of special entertainments which has been arranged at the high school this year.

SENATE GROUP SPURNS HOOVER, APPROVES LOAN

Committee Ignores President's Expressed Opposition

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Overriding the expressed opposition of President Hoover, the senate finance committee approved the veterans loan bill today without change.

Quick senate action was looked for. The President's views were given in a letter to the committee. He went on record as fearing the legislation "will not only nullify the benefits to the veteran but inflict injury to the country as a whole."

Democrats Back Bill
Democrats voted solidly for the bill as passed by the house.

Six Republicans led by Senator Watson, the party leader, joined in support of the house bill after the futile attempt to substitute it.

Those voting against the bill were Chairman Smoot and Senators Reed of Pennsylvania and Bingham of Cincinnati, both Republicans.

Those for the measure were: Republicans, Watson, Shortridge, Couzens, Keyes, LaFollette and Thomas of Idaho. Democrats, Simmons, Harrison, George, Walsh, Massachusetts; Barkley, Thomas, Oklahoma; and Connally.

Senator King, Democrat, Utah, withheld his vote.

The motion to report the house bill without change was made by Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, after the series of amendments were rejected.

Walsh Plan Rejected
Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, offered a substitute bill providing for cash payments of $150 without interest to veterans actually in distress. The payments would be charged against the bonus insurance certificates.

This was rejected nine to eight.

TURMOIL CEASES AS MONARCHIST CABINET MEETS

Spanish Government Side-steps Revolution And Dictatorship

OLD NAVY OFFICER ASSEMBLES GROUP

Members Sworn In At Royal Palace Before King Alfonso

BY CLARENCE DUBOSE
Associated Press Writer

MADRID, Feb. 18.—After four days of political turmoil and uncertainty, Spain today had a new monarchist cabinet, avoiding revolution on the one hand and dictatorship on the other.

Either of those possibilities had seemed imminent, but now it is believed that the tense atmosphere of the past week will be cleared and that the situation is once more tranquil, at least for the time being.

The fundamental cause of all the trouble of the past year still exists, however, and opposition to the monarchy probably will be renewed when the time is ripe.

Admiral Juan Bautista Aznar, the oldest ranking officer in the Spanish navy, and generally regarded as a neutral in politics, succeeded where Jose Sanches Guerra and Melquades Alvarez had failed. This afternoon he brought a new cabinet to the royal palace and its members were sworn in before the king.

It includes General Berenguer, the admiral's predecessor, and the Count of Romanones, whose refusal to participate in Berenguer's election program resulted in the king's downfall.

The cabinet is composed entirely of extreme right monarchists, with representatives of the conservatives, the liberals and the Catalan independents.

The Count de Bugallal, minister of economy, is chief of the conservative party. Juan Ventosa, minister of finance, is a right hand man of Cambo. The Barcelona financier who is leader of the Catalan group.

Members Are Listed
The Duke of Maura, minister of labor, is the son of the premier who founded the Conservative party. His brother Miguel, a Republican leader, is still in jail for participating in the unsuccessful revolt last December.

Members of the new cabinet are: Premier—Admiral Aznar; secretary of war—General Berenguer; public works—Juan de la Cierva; treasury—Juan Ventosa; economy—Count de Bugallal; labor—Duke of Maura; interior—Marquis de Hoyos; marine—Admiral Luis Rivera; justice—Marquis Alhucemas; foreign affairs—Count de Romanones.

One Post Vacant
The list leaves vacant the ministry of instruction. Admiral Aznar himself temporarily will act as minister of marine, but both portfolios are expected to be filled shortly.

The admiral, it was said in official circles, is in poor health and was induced to accept the heavy task which now is his only by an appeal to his patriotism.

General Berenguer also is not well and it was considered doubtful that he would be able to participate actively in the new government.

SHOPPERS AWAIT DOLLAR DAYS IN SALEM DISTRICT

Merchants Join In Great Bargain-Offering Drive On Friday, Saturday

MANY EXPECTED TO VISIT STORES

Business Places Seek To Display Good-Will In City's Trade Area

Friday and Saturday will be Dollar days in Salem.

Show windows, and interiors as well, in stores throughout the district affiliated with the Salem Business Bureau, are taking on holiday-like dress in preparation for one of the outstanding bargain events of the year.

Magnet for Buyers
The promotion of this mammoth mercantile project, undertaken by Salem's merchants as a medium for demonstrating good-will toward the buying public, is an outstanding event twice annually. It brings to this city hundreds of customers from miles around.

Merchants are confident that no mercantile event ever held in Salem will exceed the present Dollar days. The occasion is not a sudden excitement in price-reducing but the result of a carefully planned campaign, backed by the endeavor to procure the best possible merchandise for the hundreds of buyers expected.

Values For Money
"We expect large crowds of purchasers to visit the stores and we expect to give all perfect satisfaction," merchants point out. The good-will drive is ample return for whatever monetary sacrifices we are forced to make to conduct the drive.

The bargains are directed at every buyer in the Salem trade area. The buyer can make a mental note of things needed in his home, plan to make his purchases at the bargain stores, then dive in for the bargains with both hands outstretched. In so doing he can emerge with merchandise for the family, furnishings for the home, everything that is needed.

Dollar days are a tested, successful, cooperative mercantile venture.

LAUDS FIREMEN IN ROTARY TALK

Gamewell Representative Discusses Fire Alarm Systems

Praise for Salem's fire fighters and their chief was given in liberal measure by Charles S. Chapman, representing the Gamewell company of Pittsburgh, in a talk before the Rotary club Tuesday at the Woodruff home, Jennings ave.

Cites Catastrophes
Chapman spoke on the subject of old and new fire and police signals, citing catastrophes in schools and other public buildings because of lack of proper signals and tracing the development of new automatic signals which repetition are a safeguard against repetition of such tragedies.

The speaker took occasion to compliment Salem men who have installed alarm signals in their buildings at their own expense, because the city has not had the money to provide a complete system of alarm boxes throughout the city.

The necessity for getting firemen to a fire within the shortest possible time was stressed, and in interesting fashion he gave examples of the cost in lives and property alarm did not reach fire companies in time to avert great losses.

Fire Loss Large
In 1930 fires in the United States claimed the lives of 10,700 people, 85 per cent of whom were mothers and children, he said. Fires in the same year caused property damage aggregating $500,000,000.

At the conclusion of his talk Chapman demonstrated the latest developments in fire signals. He was presented to the club by Harry Haymes, Fire Chief Vincent Malloy and Mayor John M. Davidson were guests of the club.

CITY GETS DATA ON COMPRESSOR; WILL COST $7,150

Council Considers Plans For Purchase Of New Equipment

Purchase of a new air compressor for the waterworks pumping station at a cost of approximately $7,150 was taken under consideration by members of city council Tuesday night.

The action of the lawmakers follows investigations by Service Director Clyde R. Reich and City Engineer F. S. Barkhoff.

3,500,000 Gallons Capacity
William Meier, representing the Worthing Pump company of Cincinnati and New York City, submitted an estimate on the cost of the compressor and explained that proposed new equipment will pump approximately 3,500,000 gallons of water daily. The city's daily maximum is 800,000 gallons, Meier said.

The ordinance committee was instructed by President Geo. F. Koontz to confer with Reich and Barkhoff and prepare final legislation for action by the legislators at their first March meeting.

A request for funds to provide for the cost of erecting new street signs for police use was submitted by Safety Director John R. Kerr.

Consider Street Plans
Plans for the improvement of the South Ellsworth ave. rd, formerly known as the Depot rd, were taken under consideration by council. A petition requesting the improvement was submitted by J. T. Cope.

Council also approved action whereby $600 will be transferred from the city's street lighting fund to the fire apparatus fund for the remodeling of one of the city's fire trucks into a chemical vehicle.

The matter was discussed following requests by Safety Director John R. Kerr and Fire Chief V. L. Malloy in which they asked council to provide suitable apparatus for the department to answer alarms in outlying districts.

WAR CHEST FUND AIDS VETERANS

East Liverpool Makes Weekly Payments To Needy Former Service Men and Families

LISBON, Feb. 18.—In a report filed with the county commissioners by Charles Marton of the soldiers' relief committee of Columbiana county, it is disclosed that those in charge of the East Liverpool war chest funds are making payments weekly for food, clothing, and fuel for veterans residing in East Liverpool and St. Clair township. There are 105 active aid cases in this territory, the report shows, and $2,500 has been paid out of the War Chest fund for aid purposes.

"Had it not been for this fund," the report concludes, "a greater strain would have been placed on the county, townships and the city of East Liverpool. There are 199 children of veterans of all wars whose parents are being aided by this fund."

How To Get Rich

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Feb. 18.—Those of the soldiers that need it should get at least 50 per cent of what the government owes 'em, but let the ones that are not soldiers quit hollering for it, on the grounds that it would make the country prosperous.

We used 'em in the war when we needed 'em, now we are using what they saved out of the war to help out the rest of us.

Everybody nowadays is prospering by getting prosperous on somebody else's money. Yours.

Ohio-Edison Reported As Willing To Make Some Decrease

Representatives of the city and the Ohio-Edison company, who have been discussing proposed electric light and power adjustments, have failed to come to an agreement, it developed at Tuesday night's legislative session here.

As a result, council members said, it is probable that additional conferences will be held in the near future.

In reporting that conferences with Ohio Edison company representatives had failed to bring about an agreement as to new rates, Councilman C. F. HONOR STUDENTS

Three students of the high school, members of the Senior class, will graduate with highest honors at commencement exercises in June. These honors indicate, of course, that these students have excelled in classwork and thereby are to be accorded special recognition, justly, for their achievements.

The trio consists exclusively of girls—Misses Dorothy Harroff, Barbara Benzinger and Julia Bodo. Seven others completing the first 10 include Reba Gabler, Daniel Weber, Howard Heston, Marjorie Bell, Stephen Zatkoff, Rebecca Harris and Ruth Auld.

It is to be hoped that every just reward will be forthcoming to each honor student. Each, certainly, is to be congratulated for what he, or she, has done. It would be difficult, indeed, to conquer the intricacies of the languages, the problems of mathematics, the enigmas of science and kindred subjects without considerable thought, research and study, requiring many hours between the covers of text books. In other words, one must work.

Now then, if this aptitude and willingness to work, plus an ordinary amount of initiative and intelligence are retained after school days, and applied in a practical manner, there is no reason why these honor students of today's class room should not prove honor students in life's world-wide halls.

And there are many in this class, or all classes, for that matter, who are not honor students, that is, so far as classification in grades is concerned. Among this group are those who also have worked hard, who have extended every effort to complete their courses in the most creditable manner possible. They have fought for every gain, battled against every loss and continued to put forth more effort.

They have toiled faithfully and diligently from day to day. Perhaps circumstances were not kind. At any rate they have tried, and that, after all, is the first step. Doubtless they will go on trying until they have achieved their measure of success.

So, while they may not be honor students in the light of brilliant grades, nevertheless—all honor to them, as well.

SELF-HELP IN ARKANSAS.

Arkansas, because it is hardest hit of all the drought affected states, is the principal point of interest in the appeal for relief. No small reason for this effect has been the audibility of Arkansas' two senators, Mr. Robinson and Mr. Caraway.

News from local correspondents in Arkansas has been notably scarce. Will Rogers, traveling rapidly about the state in the interest of raising relief money, has done his best, but his comment, of course, has been calculated only to excite sympathy.

A different picture is painted by Charles Morrow Wilson, correspondent for the New York Times. Mr. Wilson gives an invaluable description of Arkansas from the Arkansas point of view. Among many other things he says, "the darkest hour of its famine is past."

It is neither tactful nor comforting to speculate on silver linings when the clouds grow more darkly, but from Mr. Wilson the reader learns that his state's present evil may spell future good, and in this way: Self-sufficiency will become a state creed.

At present the extension of Arkansas agricultural university service is encouraging the state's 1,600,000 farmers to try out a new kind of farming involving, among others, the following principles:

To raise grain and hay sufficient to feed all livestock during the coming year.

To raise the sufficient meat and foodstuffs to supply all domestic needs during the coming year.

To rebuild soil fertility by planting at least half the corn and cotton acreage to legumes and pasture crops.

To reduce tilled acreage and apply the surplus labor to terracing and drainage.

To keep a budget of clothing, to study textile problems and to buy within the income limit.

Back of this program lies an even more important evidence of self-help—neighborliness. Merchants are going the limit in extending credit; schools, churches and public institutions are remaining open even though those responsible for operating them are receiving little if any pay.

The exercise of neighborliness, the encouragement of better principles of farming, the incentive to be self-sufficient would be worthwhile returns from the havoc of drought in Arkansas or any other state.

What Others Say

MR. SNOWDEN'S SPEECH

Protests against the extravagance of the MacDonald government are beginning to have their effect. Business interests, without regard to party, object to the bottomless hole of debt into which it is plunging the country. What with the reckless extension of the dole and the social welfare projects upon which Socialism is set, the treasury is approaching the ragged edge of bankruptcy. It is natural that the chancellor of the exchequer should be the first to feel the pressure of criticism. To do him justice he is out of sympathy with most of his colleagues upon financial policy. His speech in the house of commons on the Conservative motion of censure which with the aid of the Liberals was defeated, reminds one of nothing so much as a fighter with his back against the wall.

His weapons on this occasion were largely those of recrimination. He attacked the debt settlement with the United States, negotiated by Mr. Baldwin, and charged that Tory extravagance was the cause of increases in taxation. At the same time he admitted, in effect, the truth of the charge of the extravagance of the present government, declared that further taxation would be disastrous, and called for drastic economies in administration. One result was a Liberal amendment, supported by the Conservatives, calling for the appointment of a committee to work out a plan of retrenchment. Another result was an attack upon the government by the Left Wing Socialists, who saw some of their favored schemes in danger. They mustered 21 votes against the government—an ominous symptom of unrest among its normal supporters.

Mr. Snowden, as was to be expected, said nothing to conciliate any one, nor did he appear to be disturbed by the uncomfortable position in which he had put his party. As an example of invective his speech was a brilliant one. Like Lord Salisbury, he proved himself "a master of flouts and jests." But hard words seldom break any political bones. To bring up the war debt question at this time was futile, especially since the payments Great Britain is making upon it are as nothing in comparison with the cost to the country of unemployment, rising steadily since Mr. MacDonald took office. The Baldwin settlement was generally approved at the time, though Mr. Lloyd George, with characteristic lack of consistency has recently been attacking it.

Though there is no immediate sign of the defeat of the government it is plainly growing weaker, and an influential portion of the Liberal party is already averse to a continued alliance with the Socialists. The chancellor is at least one member of it who will go down fighting—Philadelphia Inquirer.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—No section of Manhattan is so richly steeped in attractive lore as the Bowery. Yet its glories reflect none of its brighter past. Today it seems a highway of bread-lines, pawn shops and cheap-john stores—a haven for the submerged tenth.

In the beginning it was an Indian trail and later Bowery Lane. The Bowery and then its present name. The town sports and the bawdy, the town sports and the bawdy, the town sports and the bawdy.

Sunday afternoon brought out a grand promenade, comparable to Fifth avenue today. The two hotels of the period were there—Bull's Head Tavern and Black Horse Inn. Gallants set out front in cane-seated chairs and admired passing belles in hoop-skirts.

The famous theater of the epoch was the Bowery, at the Bowery and Elizabeth street, built at the stupendous cost of $105,000. The stage was 100 feet wide to permit calvary and water spectacles. The troupe which opened the playhouse included Edwin Forrest and Mr. and Mrs. George Barrett.

Prices, after a long wrangle which stirred the town were finally fixed at 75 cents for box seats, 37c for the pit and 50 cents for the gallery. In 1830 a toe dance was introduced by Madame Hutchinson which drove out the pious en masse in a burst of righteous indignation.

Charlotte Cushman made her debut there as Lady Macbeth. John Drew and the elder Booth were among the theater's most famous players. Theatrical history was clouded by bloody riots. In 1849 was a clash between partisans of Edwin Booth and McCreedy at the Astor Place theater.

One gang marched from the Bowery theater to attack the Astor Place Opera House, defended by militia, and in the riot a number were killed and 200 wounded. No one knew exactly what it was about. Nobody ever does in a riot.

In those 90 days two high-priced taverns were Brandreth's, at Broadway and Canal, offering rooms for a dollar a day and the Astor, which charged $2.50 a day on the American plan.

A magazine editor forwards this bit from an amateur writing contest which I think is swell: "His name was Andy Pettibohn and he covered his bald spot with long thin hairs and gazed too frequently upon the mule when it was white."

He was a tiresome speaker whose platitudinous prattle began to pall. Frazier Hunt on my left whispered: "What a firm grasp he has of the obvious!"

Charles G. Norris tells of a pretty young saleswoman recently married into the social whirl. At a dinner she sat opposite a haughty, superior lady. After looking the bride over from across the table the lady cooed: "I seem to remember seeing you somewhere." The ex-sales lady beat her to the punch with: "Certainly, I used to sell you gloves."

Incidentally, I care for the chumminess of the restaurant waitress who dropped beside my restaurant chair last night and moaned: "I've been standing on these dogs so long I feel like my divorced husband—all hell!"

They were discussing the tireless verve of a notorious yes-man long attached to a movie executive, who has been slated for the totem-pole. "When this yesser hears the news," observed Herb Howe, "he's going to chew a sinking ship's bull rat something nifty in scampering."

As a matter of fact my sympathy is large for those who have to toady through life. For many years I've been a cynic with all the obsequiousness of a sycophant. Due to the indifferent ability that was mine this cleavage seemed the only way to hold a job. There is one guy who has me bluffed to this day. Although we have gone separate ways, when I see him I find it difficult not to approach him with a slow crawl stroke.

FRANCES E. WILLARD

To the Editor:

Thirty-three years ago yesterday Frances E. Willard was promoted from her life militant to her life triumphant.

While not the founder of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, she was its developer, for many years president of both the national and world's organizations. Under her leadership:

"All round the world the ribbon white is twined."

All round the world the glorious light has shined.

Her "Organized Motherhood" is anchored in 52 nations. Her faith in womanhood was inspiring, ideal. To her the word woman was synonymous with purity, holiness. She looked on all women as at least potentially pure. She knew the regenerating power of the Savior and applied it. Listen to her:

"Dear girls, Christ is the magnet of humanity. She has found the best and highest vocation who brings most diseased souls within the healing power of His immortal gospel. This is a work for which women have gifts preeminent. The mission of woman is to make the world homelike. Home is woman's climate, her vital breath, her native air. A true woman carries home with her wherever she goes. And she will enter every place on this globe and earth. She will come into government and purify it. Into politics and claim it. Any custom or traffic or party on which woman cannot look with favor, is irretrievably doomed."

Of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union she said:

"We believe in prohibition by law; prohibition by politics; prohibition by woman's ballot."

"To help forward the coming of Christ in all departments of life is in its last analysis, the purpose of the W. C. T. U."

"Of wealth the W. C. T. U. has incomparable stores. Wealth of faith, of enthusiasm, of experience, of brain, of speech, of common sense. This is a capital stock that cannot be depreciated; needs no insurance; requires no bonded warehouse nor custodian; that puts us under no temptation to tack our course."

"Alone we are weak. Aggregated, we become batteries of power. Agitate, educate, organize are the deathless watchwords of success."

"Christianity applied is the only thing that will bring salvation and set the halcyon chorus rolling round the world."

She was an ardent advocate of woman's emancipation, her advancement on equal terms with men. Never would she accomplish success by the lowering of womanly standards; but by the raising of the standards of men. "A white life for two" was her emancipation gospel.

She would be agnostic at the "walking totem poles" of today; the rebellion against moral restraint; the rejection of home making and parenthood, which is the definition of "emancipation" in the dictionary of such youth of today.

She had no conception of "freedom" apart from purity. Truth teaches that when freedom parts company with purity, Satan infects the paths and Christ is dethroned. Satan's paths always lead to destruction. True freedom is found only in company with Christ. "If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." John 8:36.

She reorganized woman's peculiar endowment as the highest and holiest endowment of humanity. Home making and motherhood; the training of future generations.

She did not live to see the 18th amendment written into our Constitution, nor that marriage ring, the 19th amendment, thus making the

Brushing The Hair

"Beautiful hair is a woman's crowning glory." This statement is as true today as it was when first uttered many years ago. Hair is given us, primarily for protection. But it aids in making the face attractive. In any event it is our duty to give it the proper care.

Every person should have his own comb and brush, and these should be kept clean. They should be washed frequently. It will be found that dirt collects in the neglected comb and brush and when allowed to remain, makes a suitable soil for the growth of germs.

For washing the comb and brush, soap and warm water can be used. You may use a teaspoonful of ammonia to a bowl of warm water and use this instead of soap and water. When they have been cleansed, rinse the brush and comb in fresh water and place them in the sun to dry.

In selecting toilet articles you need not purchase the most expensive. But be sure that the comb has smooth, strong teeth and that the bristles of the brush are rather widely separated.

I am glad to see that the fine comb, so popular some years ago, is gradually disappearing from use. This type of comb, with its fine, sharp teeth, was more often injurious than helpful.

Brushing the hair every day for a few minutes is an important habit. It stimulates the circulation because of the massaging of the scalp and gives the hair a beautiful gloss.

If you have your hair washed away from home, be sure you go to a place that is sanitary and that the person attending you is clean.

Shampooing the hair is for the purpose of getting all the dirt out. Soaps such as liquid green soap, castile or tar soap, are most popular, but any good toilet soap can be used. It is important to carefully rinse the hair and see that all the soap is removed. This should be followed by thorough drying.

Certain hair is inclined to be dry. To help remedy this condition, rub a little oil, as vaseline or olive oil, into the scalp. For hair that is inclined to be oily, shampooing once a week with green soap is advisable.

There are many diseases of the hair and scalp which I will discuss on another occasion.

THE DAY In Sports

LAUDS COLLEGE SPORTS

While Ohio athletic directors were compiling their 1932 basketball schedules Sunday at Dayton, Merin Dittmer, head of freshmen activities at Miami University, Oxford, brought out a brand new thought on the value of intercollegiate athletics.

"Athletic competition does as much good for the townspeople of the community as it does for the student body and the athletes themselves," Dittmer said.

"Sport will bring a community closer together than all the Chamber of Commerce committees or Rotary clubs can ever do. I once knew two merchants who were bitter enemies as far as business was concerned but on Saturday afternoons they could be seen together at every football game, cheering for the same team and forgetting their petty differences."

"Instead of staying at home and gossiping about their neighbor men and women will go to a football, basketball game or some other collegiate game and a topic of conversation is supplied for two or three days. Take athletic competition out of a community and see it revert to the old narrow-minded days of the supposedly gay '90s."

Mike Silvilich, three fingered pitcher of the St. Stephens club of the Slovak league at Middletown last year, has been signed for a trial by the Hagerstown club of the Blue Ridge league. Last season he gained fame by turning in a no-run, no-hit game.

One hundred amateur boxers have entered the American Legion golden gloves tournament at Akron. The tournament will start next Wednesday night. The entry list already tops the greatest number ever to enter any previous amateur boxing carnival held at that place.

Thirteen selected golf professionals will gather at Columbus on June 23, four days before the Ryder Cup matches, to play a 72 hole match to determine who will be chosen for the remaining two positions and two alternate places on the American team.

The players already selected for the team are Walter Hagen, Lee Diegel, Johnny Farrell, Horton Smith, Al Espinosa and Gene Sarazen. The players eligible for the playoffs are Al Watrous, Ed Dudley, John Golden, Bill Burke, Denny Shute, Olin Dutra, Charles Hilgendorf, Henry Cull, Joe Turnesa, Bill Klein, Craig Wood, Whiffy Cox and Frank Walsh.

Ray Detrick, baseball coach at Ohio Wesleyan, and Bing King, Columbus referee, have been selected to officiate at the Knights of Columbus high school cage tournament at Columbus on March 13-14. It is expected that 20 teams will compete for the championship this year as compared with 14 last season when the tournament reached its peak in attendance.

Holdout List For Yankees Decreases

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The New York Yankees hold-out list has dwindled to two—Lyn Lary, shortstop, and Sam Byrd, outfielder. Latest to come to terms are Herb Pennock and Johnny Allen, pitchers. Pennock has been in the major leagues since 1912, but still can fool opposing batters consistently. Allen is a rookie right-hander.

Grove Electrics Lose Great Battle; Furnace Bows To Golden Eagle

The McArtor Florists looked every bit like a championship aggregation Tuesday night, staging a sensational fourth-quarter rally to nose out the strong Grove Electrics team, 27-26 in what was without doubt the season's outstanding Class A league contest.

Outplayed for three quarters by the powerful Electrics who are fighting hard for titular honors, the Florists came back strong in the final period to score 12 points and annex their third straight victory in the second half. The victory placed the Posies far ahead of any of the three other teams in the circuit.

Golden Eagle Wins

The Electric Furnace put up a great battle against the Golden Eagle team in the first game last night but fell before a vicious scoring attack flashed by the champions in the third and fourth quarters. With the score standing at 17-all at the halfway mark, the Golden Eagle pulled through with a decisive 40-25 decision.

TILDEN TO PLAY IN YOUNGSTOWN

Famous Tennis Star Will Give Exhibition In Rayen-Wood Hall

William Tatem Tilden, 2nd, for more than a decade a prominent and dominant figure in international amateur tennis, makes his professional debut tonight at Madison Square Garden, New York City, and on Monday night, February 23, will appear in an exhibition match at the Rayen-Wood auditorium in Youngstown.

In addition to Tilden the group of visiting stars to appear in Youngstown includes Karel Kozeluh of Czechoslovakia, international professional champion and coach of the British and United States Davis cup teams; Francis T. Hunter, Tilden's doubles partner for many years; and 23-year-old Emmet Pare of Chicago, national clay courts champion in 1928 and holder of many sectional titles.

The outstanding feature of the professional exhibition from a local standpoint is that it is Youngstown's introduction to big time tennis. And not only that but the Tilden-Kozeluh singles match which will be part of the program will be one of a series between these great stars for the professional championship of the world.

Youngstown is the only city in northern Ohio to be visited by the professional caravan. Their route calls for matches in New York Feb. 18, Boston, Feb. 20, Baltimore Feb. 21, Cincinnati Feb. 22, Youngstown Feb. 23, Detroit Feb. 24 and Chicago Feb. 25. Tennis enthusiasts from all over this part of the state are expected to gather at Rayen-Wood to see the exhibition which was arranged for on Tilden's last visit here.

Three Games Remain On Quaker Schedule; Meet Wellsville There

Alliance High's 1931 Northeastern Ohio district basketball league championship squad battles Salem High's Quaker tossers here Friday night in one of three cage tilts scheduled for the Red and Black during closing weeks of season's cage competition.

Alliance High, already definitely established as one of the leading district tossing combines, comes to Salem with a great season's record, one that includes a 28-25 victory over the Quakers in an over-time tilt played at Alliance early this year.

The game will mark the close of the "Big Ten" league schedule for both schools.

Whether Alliance wins or loses here Friday will make no difference in the team's standing as champions of the circuit in that it has already annexed five straight league victories against no defeats.

The best the Quakers can do is finish the season with a percentage of .667, having to-date won five out of eight games.

In winning district titular honors Alliance dethroned Wooster, 1929-30 champions. Salem, on present indications, will finish no better than third, one flight better than its rating last season.

Overheim McKinley

Alliance's great showing against Canton McKinley last week asserted the former as a great squad, one that should triumph over the Salemites. The dope points towards the Stark countians as odds-on favorites, for the team has showed steady improvement while, on the other hand, after a flourish of great basketball through which it won eight straight games, the Red and Black has been depreciating in tossing talents.

Any team that overwhelms McKinley by a 28-18 score is certainly deserving of consideration and that is just what Alliance did last week. It was Canton's second setback in 11 games, the contest bringing out unexpected strength in the Alliance team. It was McKinley's worst setback in three seasons.

That powerful reserve team from Salem will attempt to run its winning streak to 15 straight games when it battles Alliance reserves in Friday's preliminary tilt. Salem was hard-pressed to take a 24-23 decision over the Stark countians in their first meeting and an evening filled with thrills, anticipated for both the preliminary and main entertainment is expected.

Play Wellsville Saturday

The second of the three games remaining on the Red and Black's slate will be played at Wellsville on Saturday night, the varsity girls and boys trekking to the southern Columbiana county school's home playing emporium for the final county contests of the year. Victorious in both games played here last Saturday, Salem is nevertheless no great shakes of a favorite to trim the Tigers on their own hardwood for there Wellsville is a really hard team to beat.

None has been able to reverse the score on the Tigers at Wellsville this season.

SILVER WEDDING RECALLS OLD ERA

Mrs. Longworth, Guests, Wear Costumes Of 1906 At Party

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—During as always Alice Roosevelt Longworth turned back the clock a quarter century last night, to appear at her silver wedding party in the bulging pompadour of 1906 and a costume from her trousseau. The slender, youthful looking "Princess Alice," required of the guests invited to dinner at the Longworth home that they too wear gowns of the same era. If they had no ball gowns left they were commanded to appear in shirt waists, skirts and sailor hats, so that inside the home everything recalled the Feb. 17, when at the White House, President Roosevelt gave away his daughter to young "Nick," who now shines as the sartorially perfect speaker of the house of representatives.

Alice did not attempt appearing in her wedding gown and veil, substituting a gown of gold and satin. The pompadour was topped with a glittering diamond tiara of the same period, the were too, the necklace of matched diamonds which was the groom's gift, and the bracelet sent by the Emperor of Germany as a wedding gift.

The pompadour, necessarily, was arranged earlier in the day and far from hiding it, Mrs. Longworth went about town showing it to close friends.

The quarter century had brought its changes to her guests and while many among them could recall her as she appeared at the wedding only a few were there who took part in that event.

Mirrors for Startling Decoration
For that odd space which needs some kind of decoration, modernistic art is experimenting with mirrors. Mirrors blend harmoniously with the smooth surfaces of modernistic furnishings, and some arresting effects have been achieved.

A bedroom recently exhibited, was equipped with large pieces, which filled the generous sized room with the exception of one dark corner. This vacancy was decorated with something new in the way of mirrors. Nothing less than a mirror-screen. It had three panels, each over five feet high and about two feet wide. Although heavy of course, with the weight of these three large and handsome lengths of glass, it was built on movable rollers.

Another unique use of mirrors is in the new recesses, which are coming into vogue in modernistic living rooms. They may be square alcoves over the fireplace to house bits of glass, pottery, etc., or alcoves in corners where a cupboard might once have stood, or recesses opposite the bed in the bedroom. If the room is small, mirrors may line the alcove, either the back alone, or on both sides as well—resulting in one large mirror and two small side pieces. But the numerous reflections add depth and light to a room of moderate size.

Such mirrors are not framed as a rule, but are built in so flush as to seem an integral part of the wall rather than separate decoration. And of course, only the finest of mirror glass can be used for this purpose.

CITES POWER OF PUBLIC OPINION

General Smedley Butler Says It Will Send Capone To Italy

(By Associated Press.)

SOUTH BEND, IND., Feb. 18.—Alphonse Capone, Chicago's gangland chief, will be deported to Italy when public opinion is aroused, it was predicted by Major General Smedley D. Butler, in an address here last night.

"When public opinion is aroused," Butler said, "Capone will go back to Italy—but I can't talk about Italy."

The remark was one of a few referring indirectly to the Mussolini-Bulter imbroglio made before the Knute and Park club, whose members he addressed on the subject of the causes and cures of crime.

"God help the man who gets in the way of an accused public opinion," said the marine commander, who recently was censured for a speech in which he related an episode of which he had been told, describing Premier Mussolini of Italy as a bit and run driver.

"I've had an experience of that sort," he added. For the most part Butler confined his remarks to a description of his administration of the Philadelphia crime "cleanup" a few years ago. He recommended the constant shifting of policemen from one beat to another as a means of putting a stop to corruption.

Some of General Butler's observations on suppressing crime:

"The most effective work in tracking criminals is through their women. They always come back to them."

Police will carry on if you give them half a break. They are human like us and have families to support."

TODAY

It pays to care for your health. At the Biltmore hotel, in Los Angeles, you may see James J. Corbett, who long ago took the world heavyweight championship from John L. Sullivan, looking not older than 40. His hair is thick, and dark, voice as strong as when he fought his big fights. His weight is not 10 pounds above what it was in training, and his chest measurement is at least 10 inches greater than his waist measurement, as it should be.

"Eat little and at regular hours, plenty of fruit, never eat quite as much as you think you want, and never eat unless you are really hungry. Cut down on food, when you cut down on work, as you would do for a horse. Take regular exercise suited to your age, daily baths. Health is man's normal condition. He must do something foolish to lose it. A man should live long and die peacefully and painlessly, like a child going to sleep." Thus spoke James J. Corbett.

Postmaster Brown, urging private air mail carriers to do better, with higher speed and lower charges, reveals the interesting fact that "the military branches of the government are not at all enthusiastic about any part that civil aeronautics might play in any preparedness program." Mr. Brown says the "military branches" speak of civil aeronautics "with some contempt."

The more intelligent men in the army and navy are not so foolish, of course. They procure all their planes from civil manufacturers, the government being too dull to manufacture on its own account.

LOVED PASTRIES BUT SUFFERED IF HE ATE THEM

"I like pies better than most any food, but I used to suffer when I ate pastry," says M. J. Glick, well-known police officer, of 407 Twenty-Third Ave., So. Minneapolis, Minn.

"I would have sick headaches; would belch, leaving a sour taste in my mouth; suffered a lot with gas on my stomach; had no appetite."

"I had indigestion like that for over two years. Soda didn't help and I tried many things before I heard about Pape's Diaparsin."

"It took me right out of my trouble. I have a mighty hearty appetite, eat pastry or anything I want and have no after-effects. I am never without Pape's Diaparsin and recommend it to everyone I know."

If you suffer from indigestion, often or just occasionally, get a package of these candy-like tablets from your druggist. They stop heartburn, gas on stomach, belching, nausea, headaches or any other symptoms of indigestion soon as the trouble starts. They are harmless; form no habit; can be taken as often as needed.

If you wish to try them before buying, write "Pape's Diaparsin," Wheeling, W. Va., for a FREE sample box.

Former Service Men Plead For Bonus After Long Jaunt

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Twenty-seven former service men who had come all the way from Seattle with-out a dollar among them, trooped into the office of Senator Dill.

"We're not Bolsheviks," said their leader, by way of introduction. "We are just a bunch of former service men who wanted to come here to see if congress couldn't do something to help us get our bonus money."

We've come 3,000 miles in 20 days by box car and—"

"Well, well," said the Washington senator—a Democrat—"come in and sit down. I wouldn't blame you if you did feel a little Bolshevik after making that trip in box cars. Was it cold?"

There followed an arresting tale of how a modern Custer's army of 120 strong set out from Seattle, January 25, and how its dwindling remnants made their dogged way across the country, living on doughnuts or whatever else came their way.

"One place in Montana," said the slender leader, Robert Taylor, "they gave us 1,000 doughnuts. We ate doughnuts until we couldn't see."

"Everybody was great to us. The legion posts helped us everywhere we stopped."

"The railroad brakemen treated us like we were Pullman passengers; but was it cold in those box cars? Around Chicago it was so cold we like to freeze."

Nearly half of the original 120 were forced to turn back at Spokane, Taylor said, after the entire "army" had become drenched by a heavy rain on the 400-mile trek from Seattle.

"Of those that came on from Spokane," said Taylor, "forty-four got jobs on the way. The rest are here."

"Then keep your wits at home and away from the office."

This advice was given by Dr. Frederick B. Palmer of the Northwestern University Medical school in an address. He was speaking especially of lawyers and doctors in reply to the recent statement by his colleague, Dr. Edward L. Cornell, who said:

"Marry your secretary."

A secretary, said Dr. Palmer, may know how to chew gum noiselessly, may be diplomatic in telling about how you're in conference and may be able to tell a book agent a mile away, but these accomplishments are no assurance that she'll be tactful when a guest trumps her ace or that she knows anything about rearing children.

"The business of the lawyer as well as the doctor," he said, "is a strictly private affair and is no concern to your wife. When a woman leaves her natural sphere of home making, things do not work for her favor."

"We do not want women to be our equal."

"The vast majority of them persist in dragging themselves down to our level."

WHEN CHILDREN CRY

CHILDREN often cry for no apparent reason. Many times we can't guess what is wrong. The crying may mean a touch of colic; the little bowels may be sluggish—or some other upset. It may mean any of the common little ailments that children suffer. To bring quick comfort to your little one, give a few drops of Castoria. Most upsets of children are soon soothed away by this pleasant-tasting remedy that children all love.

In five million modern homes, Castoria is a mother's first thought when a child is out of sorts, feverish, cross, doesn't eat right or sleep right. When bad breath, coated tongue, or languor tells of constipation. These five million wise mothers know that children should never be given stronger medicines meant for the fully developed systems of grown-ups

SENATE ENACTS SUPPLY BILL AS "ORATOR" RESTS

Measure Slips Through Black's One-Man Filibuster

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The senate's latest one-man filibuster played out last night after a bill get through, but a renewal of the blocking tactics was promised.
Senator Black, Democrat, Alabama, who dragged the senate into a night session by putting into effect his threat to talk against time at every opportunity to force action on Muscle Shoals legislation, had to yield finally to exhaustion and to invocation of a rule which prevents a senator from speaking more than twice in a day on the same subject.

Dispose of Supply Bill
The break made possible completion of the senate's work on the billion dollar appropriation bill for the independent offices—the veterans' bureau, shipping board, interstate commerce, federal trade and other commissions. This was the second supply bill of the year disposed of by the senate. The house still must approve the conference report.
Black began his filibuster at four o'clock. His announced purpose was to block the vital appropriation bills for the government departments in order to force the senate-house conference committee to reach an agreement on a measure for disposal of the great power and nitrate plant on the Tennessee river.

The conferees are to meet again today. So far a majority of them have agreed to virtually all the demands of Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, which center on government operation of the Muscle Shoals power plant, but the house representatives have held out some points and an agreement has been viewed as almost hopeless.
Black forced a roll call on a motion to take up the independent offices supply bill. Showing 54 to 18 in its favor.

county about $14,000 above its present share of the license plate return, or about $42,000 annually. From this amount the law provides that $28,000 shall be used for the county road and bridge repair fund. On this basis, only $14,000 would be left for new road construction. This estimate is based upon the sale of 22,037 license plates in Columbiana county last year. This figure also shows there is a motor vehicle in Columbiana county for every four persons, based upon a population of 66,484.

The eight counties in state highway district No. 4, and which will be represented at Columbus in addition to Columbiana, are Mahoning, Ashland, Lake, Portage, Summit, Geauga, and Trumbull, composing the Northeastern Ohio district. Representatives of these counties will meet at the Deshler hotel, at 5 o'clock this afternoon for conference with representatives of counties from other districts.

New Buick Improvements Big Factor In Decreasing Accidents

Transmission Changes Keep Trouble At Low Point, Dealer States

The large measure of driving safety afforded by the silent shift synchromesh type of transmission, such as is now used in all models of the 1931 Buick line, is believed to have done much to keep accidents at a minimum during the last few weeks when driving conditions have been decidedly unfavorable, due to icy streets and highways in many sections of the country.

Built Into All Cars.
Synchromesh is now built into the lowest priced of the four Buick series, this change being announced at the national automobile show in New York.

"It has been definitely proven that to enlist the aid of the motor in slowing down one's car not only contributes much to life of the brakes and the entire car, but also is a tremendous safety factor whenever streets and highways are slippery," says E. T. Strong, president and general manager of the Buick Motor Company.

"When we improved the Buick transmission, many different types were given thorough tests in our laboratories and at the General Motors Proving Ground, but none of them possessed the qualities of the Synchromesh which we are now using. It is silent, safe, and instantaneous in its operation.

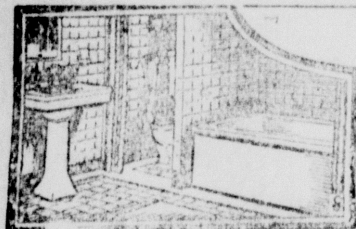

"The utility and danger of using full braking power when attempting to stop on slippery pavements is being forcibly brought to our attention at this particular time of year. Mr. Strong pointed out 'With synchromesh it is possible to use the entire braking effort applied by the compression of the motor, since one can shift quickly and easily from high to second and permit the engine to retard the speed of the car," says Mr. Strong. "And in slowing down the car in this manner the speed of both rear wheels is retarded equally as a result of the action of the differential which transmits either driving force or braking effort from the engine to the wheels equally. This is 'skidding' on slippery roads prevented unless manual brake pressure is applied.

Great Forward Step.
"Although the silence of the synchromesh gear shift is unquestionably a great forward step in the design of this unit of automobile construction," said Mr. Strong, "the added safety factor, brought about through quick, noiseless shifting, is to my mind the real outstanding contribution which this popular type of transmission has made to automotive transportation.

The synchromesh transmission is just one of the many advanced mechanical features embodied in the new Buick cars on display in the showrooms of the Harris Garage & Storage Co., at 485 W. State. All who are interested in the latest developments in the remarkable Buick straight eight car are cordially invited to come in and look them over. Perhaps the best way to convince yourself of the ease with which gears can be shifted in the new Buick is to get behind the wheel and try it out for yourself.

USED PARTS OF AUTOS CREATE REAL SAVINGS

Accessories Available For All Types Of Cars At Axelrod Yards

Folks who have even casually glanced at the conditions in the used car market today know that there never has been such a vast array of splendid values in the history of the automotive industry. Of course, some of these cars need a little work, and more than that, they may need a few parts. And the best bargains are available in these cars which are not in perfect mechanical condition.

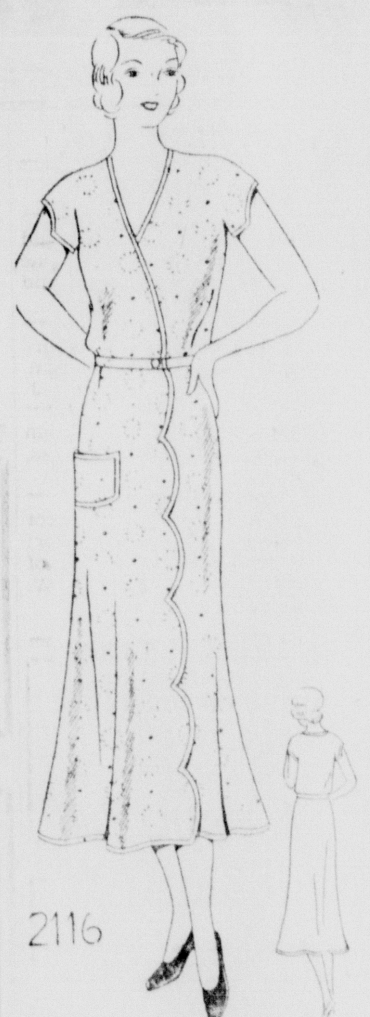

However, this need not be a difficult problem to overcome by the prospective purchaser of a good used car, because there is a firm here in Salem that can supply used parts for practically any make of automobile at prices that mean worth while savings. Used tires, batteries, radiators, gears, windshields, window glass, wheels, exhaust pipes—in fact, practically anything that may be needed for anything from an old Model T Ford to a Lincoln at the Axelrod Auto Wrecking Company at 511 East Pershing. Best of all, these parts are in first class condition and for all practical purposes, are as good as new.

Whether you are planning to buy a used car, or if you need some tires or parts for your present car, it will pay you to visit the Axelrod place and make your selections from their huge stock. This firm has several large yards and if you can't find what you want at once, it is very likely that you can find it at another. Why not drop around and investigate.

PEIPING—A campaign is now under way here to induce government employees to join the Kuomintang party. At present very few officials subscribe to the principles of Sun Yatsen, but Nanking has issued a decree to the effect that it is as undesirable to expect the Kuomintang to appoint non-Kuomintang job holders as it would be to expect the Republican party of the United States to fill its offices with Democrats.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn.—Why all the shouting about beer? "Ginger ale is a better stimulant than beer," said Col. Ben Levine of Bridgeport, R. I., who addressed the County Bottlers' Association here.

Today's Pattern

This model is very easy to make, extremely becoming and unusually practical as it has reversible fronts and one little spot does not necessitate immediate laundering. The detailed details of fronts and sleeves are most fashionable and since they are bound in braid, purchased ready to use, they are quite simple to finish. Indeed the entire dress is bound with the braid, an effective and quick method or the home sewer. Gingham, percale, rayon, dainty and cotton broadcloth are suitable fabrics for Pattern 2116.
May be obtained only in sizes 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44. Size 16 requires 2 1/2 yards of 39 inch material.

Trend Toward Smaller-Sized Radios More Marked Of Late

One of the most conspicuous tendencies in radio during recent years has been the trend toward compactness. Most of us will recall the early radios with their maize of dials, knobs, and barbed wire entanglements. Then came the "eliminator" radio in which the batteries were replaced by tin boxes, grouped in various places under the living room table where they bumped your toes. Worst of all, the eliminator sometimes failed to eliminate, and the loudspeaker danced around to the tune of squeaks, and loud hums, only to die a sudden death and re-appear to silence.
A few years later, the "all-electric" radio entered the market and the trumpeting of these songs and the creaking looks of those who had just purchased eliminator sets in fancy cabinets. More recently the screen grid radio made its appearance—but most of these sets had one fault in common, they were so big, heavy, and bulky that it took three men, tripping over a dog to move them from one room to the next.
Now, this need no longer be the case, thanks to the Salem Tool Company, 776 South Ellsworth Avenue, who have introduced to the people of this community the Jackson Bell, a complete magnet radio in a cabinet measuring only 15 inches high and 11 1/2 inches across. The Jackson Bell has been well named, because it certainly complies with Andrew Jackson's ideas of being practical and its tones are as clear and sweet as a bell. The radio enthusiast who owns a Jackson Bell is not forced to confine his activities to one room, or one house for that matter, because it is so small, light, and compact that it can be carried conveniently to any place where radio entertainment is desired. You can take it from your living room to your bedroom when you go upstairs; you can take it on week-end trips or summer vacations—in short, it always is ready to go and can be "plugged in" anywhere at a moment's notice.

Auto Batteries Undergo Heavy Strain During Winter Months

Everyone knows that during this time of the year, automobile batteries are subjected to the heaviest strain. But the average person thinks that the only reason why winter is so "tough" on batteries is because the cranking oil gets stiff when the car stands for a while, and it takes more current to turn over the motor.

Other Dangers.
This is true enough, but there is another danger of which not many motorists are aware. That is the danger of the solution in the battery freezing, breaking the case, and buckling the plates. When a battery is fully charged, the sulphuric acid content of the solution is high and it has an extremely low freezing point.
But when a battery "runs down," the sulphuric acid undergoes a chemical reaction and is converted into a sulphate deposit on the plates. The solution then is weakened, the freezing point is much higher, and the first "cold spell" that comes along is liable to convert the battery into useless junk.

Keep Battery Charging.
And so the wise motorist will keep the battery in his car well charged at all times. What's the best way of finding out whether it is charged or not? The answer to this question will be found at the Beall Battery & Electric shop, 136 Penn avenue. These folks have precision instruments for checking a battery and ascertaining its exact condition, and if you will drive around at your next opportunity, they will give you a report on its condition. This firm has complete equipment for recharging batteries, rebuilding batteries, rebuilding generators and motors. Included in their modern facilities are a Weidendorf Testing Bench that cost over $500 and a large lathe capable of "turning down" a 24-inch armature.
A. Beall, the proprietor, has had special training and years of experience in electrical work, and his firm is a member of the Official United Motor Service.

SHOES GET HARD WEAR BY YOUNG SCHOOL KIDDIES

When one thinks of the usage of a pair of shoes he need no wonder that they wear out. Of course the older members of the family are more likely to conserve shoes than the youngsters, but nevertheless there is a great deal of weight put on the shoes and they get a treatment as one walks along that is comparable to touching them to a grimestone occasionally with anywhere from 120 to 250 pounds pressure.

Youngsters give them even worse treatment. No boy and few girls think anything about preserving shoes. They are simply necessities, and the fact that sliding along an asphalt pavement behind a truck will wear them out never enters the lad's head.

Consequently good shoe repair is a big aid to the family purse. The Paul Borlas shop at 747 East State street, is a sort of first aid station in this respect. Incidentally Borlas thinks people would do well to bring in shoes to be repaired a little earlier than most of them do. A new pair soon before the shoe is run over is worth twice as much as one made after the shoe has lost its shape.

Borlas' experience enables him to make good repairs. He knows what the weak spot is and how to remedy it. His work speaks well for him in this respect. You will find that what you leave for him and his employees will be well done, neatly done, and done at a fair price.

PEIPING—As a compromise measure, it now appears likely that the conference of the Institute of Pacific Relations will be held at Hanchow this year instead of at either Nanking or Peiping, which have both sought the honor. Hanchow is considered one of the beauty spots of China, but hotel and auditorium accommodations are entirely lacking there.

"NEW MOON"
At The Grand
"New Moon," musical comedy, starring Lawrence Tibbett and Grace Moore, of opera fame, plays for the last time tonight at the Grand. Tibbett's Oklahoma cow-punchers appear on the stage as an added attraction. They furnish the typical cow-boy type of entertainment, songs, dances of the range life.

Tibbett, as a lieutenant in the army of the Russian army and Miss Moore, as a princess, are perfectly cast. Their songs, of which "Love Come Back to Me" is outstanding, are highlights of the drama.

There is plenty of adventure and the thrilling "man-to-man" fighting sequences of the Russian armies are immensely entertaining.

Adolph Menjou returns to the screen as the governor who sends Tibbett on a mission that means almost certain death, only to have him return, having fulfilled the dangerous deed.

"HER WEDDING NIGHT"
At The State

"Her Wedding Night," revealing the amusing and romantic adventures of a red-haired movie star who tries to escape the men, and a song writer whose numerous lady friends make life miserable for him, is Clara Bow's new riotous laugh-and-love hit.

"Her Wedding Night" is an Avery Hopwood farce, with a succession of comedy situations that bubble and froth in rapid crescendo to an exciting and thrilling climax.

The story opens in Paris where Clara is battling a host of heart-breakers and preparing to flee to the south of France. On the trip, she is married at a small way-station and mistaken for an eloping bride, wedded against her will to Skeets Gallagher, and, as he is traveling under an assumed name, she becomes the bride, by proxy, of a man she has never even met. When the strangely paired couple does meet there's a riot—and a delicious love story.

Ralph Forbes, Skeets Gallagher, and Charlie Ruggles help make up the excellent cast.

Homesick, Edna Best Departs; Leaves John Gilbert Waiting

(By Associated Press)
HOLLYWOOD, CAL., Feb. 18.—The lure of the films faded and flickered out for Edna Best while homesickness for dear old Lumbago.

She just walked out, leaving him, a large cast, an irate director, technicians and all who gathered at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio to begin work on "Cheri-Beli."

John Robertson, the director, tore his hair when Miss Best failed to appear Gilbert, whom she was to support in the cast, paced the floor. The director, speechless, looked at his watch. The overhead kept piling up.

"A telegram, sir," said a messenger boy.

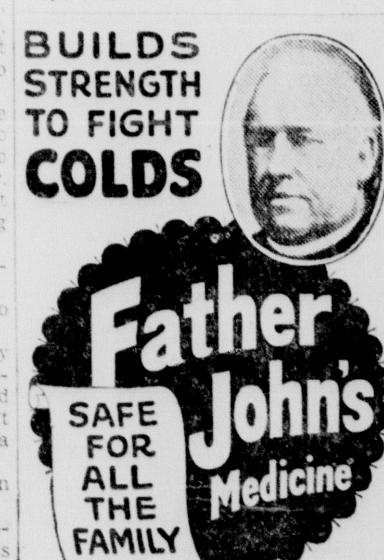

It was from Miss Best, enroute to England. It said:

"Please forgive me. I am on my way back to London and my husband and I am awfully homesick and besides I am just afraid I wouldn't be any good in the picture. Edna Best."

"Well, I'll be darned!" Robertson said.

Leila Hyams, who had played opposite Gilbert in other pictures, was summoned to replace Miss Best.
